About the Episode

Las Vegas, the city where the wildest dreams and most outrageous fantasies are turned into reality on a daily basis, where high rollers reign supreme and partying rocks `round the clock. With the world's most famous hotels, homes, casinos and clubs Vegas has become not just a destination for 37 million people annually, but the "it" city where all the hottest A-List celebrities come to play. Because everything that happens in Sin City is sure to happen fabulously.

Some hotels may advertise `round the clock service, but in Las Vegas, where the slots never stop and the clubs never close, they better damn well mean it! From 24-hour concierge service to personal in-room chefs at their beck and call, not to mention exclusive chauffeured service, private butlers and extravagant spas, when celebs hit Vegas, each and every outrageous demand is promptly met every day of the week.

But enough about the days in Vegas, it's the nights where the city lives up to its reputation. With legendary nightclubs, sizzling hot variety shows and some of the finest dining experiences around VIP celebrity service reaches no bounds when the sun goes down. Have a $1,000 martini or a $250 bottle of wine with your $50,000 meal why don't you. Forget the hotel room people-sleeping is fully optional.

While `The Strip' is lined with the world's most famous hotels and casinos, that's just not good enough for today's hottest A-List celebs-they're looking to cash in for more-lots more. With George Clooney laying plans for his very own hotel and casino, a slew of stars, including Nick and Jessica, Eminem and Wilmer Valderrama, laying down millions for ultra-luxury Condos even yet to be built, the temperature in Vegas is only getting hotter!
